

Greeting to the Students, Parents and Patrons of Page High School

From Principal: Greg Stanfield

One semester is nearly in the books at Page High School for the 2016-17 school year. As we approach the holiday season, I sincerely hope you all have a fulfilling time during the holidays, spent with family and friends.

Finals week is quickly approaching. The finals week is set for December 13th-16th, with December 16th being a half day. It is MANDATORY that your student is present in school on these days, so please plan your vacation time around this week and the school calendar. Exceptions to students being present in class will only be granted by Mr. Stanfield. If you need to discuss any exceptions please contact Mr. Stanfield by calling (928) 608-4185 or e-mail greg.stanfield@pageud.k12.az.us.

Christmas vacation will start at noon on December 16th until January 2nd. School will resume on January 3rd 2017.

With the holiday season I think it would be appropriate for us to reflect on the good things we have in our lives or reflect on how we can try to change our outlook on life. I feel the best place to start with this is to look at our own attitude and how we treat each other. As mentioned by Kevin Bracey we need to be world changers and tell people that you care about them and love them. Mark Twain added "words can heal or hurt. Kindness is a language that the deaf can hear and the blind can see". From this we can see how we actually control our attitude and outlook on what we want to be grateful for and to help others also. We make the world a better place by making yourself a better person.

Our Reach One club is trying to make a difference in our school and community by celebrating 12 days of Kindness. Each student and community member could also reflect and set up their own 12 Days of Kindness. Here at Page High School this is how we will celebrate our 12 days of kindness. December 1st Give a compliment to a friend, December 2nd Write a card to our soldiers who are defending our country, December 5th Thank someone who makes a difference in your life, December 6th Deck the halls leave a positive note for others, December 7th Hold the door open for someone, December 8th Make someone feel special, December 9th Cards for the lonely and shut in, December 12th Tell a joke make someone laugh, December 13th Give a stranger a compliment, December 14th Be Chill pass your finals, December 15th Smile as you go, December 16th Be extra generous.

By looking at yourself and how you can change the world you can create a Culture of Caring at School, Home or Work. When you care, you will inspire others to care. You need to set the tone by extending yourself to others and serve them. Go out of your way to serve someone. Go beyond the expected. People know you care when you go out of your way to show they matter. A smile, an encouraging word, an extra five minutes of time, listening to a fellow student or person, sacrificing for a friend, helping a team member through a challenging time can make all the difference.

You want to be remembered by how you treat others. Leave a legacy, make a difference. I hope you will use this holiday season to reflect on the differences you can make here at school, those around you and yourself a better person by showing that you care.

FINALS SCHEDULE

KEEP
FINAL EXAMS

Students are expected to attend/take their finals during the scheduled finals week unless their absence has been pre-approved by Principal Stanfield. Absences during finals week are only allowed due to a death in the immediate family, a pre-scheduled doctor/hospital visit, or to attend a high school/college graduation of an immediate family member. If your student does not take their final during the appropriated hour, they will receive a ZERO on that final. No exceptions. Questions please call 928-608-4133.
