We do just about any catering that is asked of us but try to limit the number of people to no more than 100 if a whole meal is required due to time and storage space. We meet during class time and use the money we earn to buy more kitchen equipment and other items we need in our new kitchen. Students who participate can also earn a Chef's jacket with their name on it and if we have enough money we have an end of the year banquet.
