

ISU Beliefs and Definitions

Teaching and Learning at ISU

Teaching and learning at ISU is a student-centered, collaborative effort that inspires and engages students in meaningful inquiry, leading to deeper understanding and personal academic success. By exemplifying the principles of the IB Learner Profile, students, teachers and parents become members of a community of life-long learners, helping to develop each individual's capabilities to the fullest.

Commitment to International Mindedness

ISU students respect the values of other cultures, recognize the importance of global issues, are able to communicate in more than one language, and are actively involved in the local community.

Behavior Philosophy

Behavior at ISU begins with clear and consistent expectations in a safe and respectful environment of integrity, empathy, pride, and cooperation, which results in personal responsibility to our entire school and community.
