

Dr. Allison Garland started as a district leader with Littleton ESD as Chief of School Leadership in 2015. Dr. Garland began her education career in Tucson where she taught Chemistry, Integrated Science, and Math for five years. Her career in administration began when she served as the Associate Principal at a high school for four years. Following that she served as a principal of a middle school for four years and then as a high school principal for four years. She holds a Bachelors degree in Chemistry, a Masters degree in Educational Psychology, and her Doctorate in Educational Leadership.

She is very proud of the fact that our District is committed to providing our students a meaningful and enriching learning environment to foster life-long learning and success. She says that, "she is blessed to have the opportunity to work in Littleton Elementary School District." Her role in Littleton is to support principals in accomplishing the goals for their schools. She encourages families to take an active role in their children's educations and welcomes any questions or concerns.
