

I want to wish a happy September to our parents, students, and visitors to our Snowflake Intermediate Home page!

Our school year is under way, and we have had an amazing first month of school! The student body has already campaigned and selected their representatives for our student council representatives, and we are excited for what the school year will bring.

We saw great growth over the summer, and we are now at capacity. For the first time in the history of me being the principal of this school, we have begun bussing our overflow students to Taylor Intermediate, which is another intermediate school in the Snowflake Unified School District! We have sixth graders who were willing to attend school at TI, which alleviated an overcrowding population in our sixth grade classrooms. I am very proud of our students and parents who were willing to transfer to TI!

The month of September has the following activities slated to occur and we are ready to go:

September 2 -Snack shack after school

September 5 - Labor Day - No school

September 14 - Little Caesars benefit day - We receive proceeds from each pizza that you purchase.

September 14 - Fall pictures - All students will have their pictures taken. Please remember to pay for your pictures in advance if you wish to purchase them.

September 30 - PAWS assembly - Responsibility

We are so very excited for the amazing students, teachers, and parents that we have involved with our school this year! I would like to give a shout-out to our PTSO who is already working on and preparing for our Fall Festival and Carnival in October. We could not accomplish all of the wonderful things that we have taking place on our campus if it were not for their dedication to helping us provide a safe, caring environment for all of the extraordinary students we have attending Snowflake Intermediate.

It is my immense pleasure to lead such a great group of people.

“Stay on track with the Lobo pack!”
