

Peace Families

Familiae Pacis is Latin for Peace Families, the name of the Middle School Compassion Project at St. Francis of Assisi. In this peace education program, students are given opportunities to express and explore themselves as a people of action as they develop, manage, and engage in service projects. Students learn the power of simple acts of compassion and their responsibility to do such acts. In Familiae Pacis the lives of strangers become the ideal place for students to initiate their understanding of human pain and the importance of being a person who must reach out to others.

SFA Peace is a website created by the SFA middle school students about Familiae Pacis.
